Victor Image Processing Library
License Agreement

The Victor Image Processing Library is copyrighted material. This includes the source code, object code, dlls, examples, and documentation. This material is protected by United States copyright law as well as international copyright treaty provisions.

The Victor Library is for use by one programmer on one computer. Catenary Systems Inc, grants to you the right to use a single copy of the enclosed software on a single computer. You may make copies of the software for backup purposes only. You may not reproduce or distribute the documentation accompanying the software.

You may modify the source code to the library and examples as part of your use of the product. However, under copyright law, the modified source code remains the copyrighted property of Catenary Systems and you may not distribute it.

Catenary Systems Inc, grants to you the nonexclusive royalty-free right to reproduce and distribute the dynamic link library portions of the software as a part of your Microsoft Windows desktop or server application subject to the following:

- You must assume full and complete responsibility and liability for the use of this product in your programs.
- Your software must be an executable application, not merely a set or subset of the functions or code included in this package.
- You must take reasonable precautions to prevent end users from directly accessing the functions in the library.
- You must include a valid copyright notice with your product.

You are responsible for the operation of your applications, including testing of all included object code to ensure that it functions as documented, as expected, and as required.

You are entitled to these rights only as long as your possession of the product shall be lawful. These rights will cease if you return the product under the terms of any warranty or money-back guarantee.