To User

- A license manager should register the Node Count License and each user does not register individually. In order to use astah*, please receive a license key file and astah* installer from your license manager.
- Network access is required to activate your license on your first time to use astah*. (Once license is activated, network access is no longer required to use astah*.)

License activation

<http://astah.change-vision.com/en/shopping/node-count-activation.html>

Installing astah*

1. Receive an astah* installer (.exe) and license key file (.xml) from your license manager and save them in your PC. *Do not open your license key file (.xml)
2. Double-click the astah* installer and follow the instruction to install astah*

Notes

- Node Count License is valid for astah* professional, astah* UML 6.1 or later versions
- astah* required Java6. No longer runs on JDK5
- Activation of one Node Count License can be done only one PC
- The astah* products no longer run after the operation period expires
- If you access the network using a Proxy for an activation, please let set up the [System Properties] first.
  1. Go to [tool]-[System Properties] from main menu to open the System Properties dialog
  2. Select [Software Update and Node Count License] from the left menu, and input required information and then click [Apply]

Setting up and activating license

1. Start astah* by double-clicking on the astah* icon on Desktop or start menu of Windows
2. [License Management] dialog should appear, select [Set License Key]

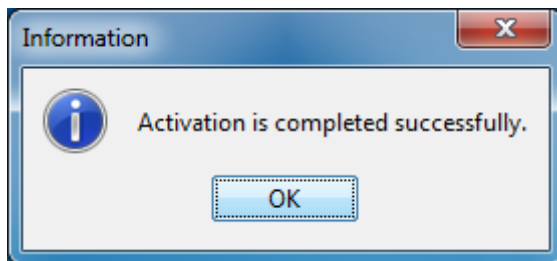

3. Information dialog appears, click [OK] and then specify your license key file (.xml) and click [Select License File]

4. Activation dialog appears after setting up the license key (It should come up within 15 seconds)

5. Enter the name which enables your license manager to identify you in the [Identifier Name] box (e.g. Machine name, department you belong to or full name etc) This information will be required when the license manager sends us inquiries or requests technical support.
6. Click [OK] to complete. [Information] dialog should appear if the activation has been successfully completed.

The alert appears if you fail to activate your license. Activation needs to be processed within 20 days after you set up your license key file.

7. Now you are able to use astah*

Change Activation Information

You can change your identifier name from License Management dialog.

Deactivating license (Returning license)

<http://astah.change-vision.com/en/shopping/node-count-deactivate.html>
