The Easiest Way to Write, Collaborate, & Publish

Whether you are writing new or using existing content, Doc-To-Help's purpose is to make your life easier by helping you manage that content, work with colleagues, and publish exactly what you need.

Creating/Using Content

Doc-To-Help reads and processes normal styles, so content can come from many popular writing environments.

• Microsoft Word:

Write new Word documents or use the ones you have. Doc-To-Help does not require you to convert them. Word stays in Word. You even get a Doc-To-Help toolbar.

• Doc-To-Help's Built-in Editor:

Edit content without leaving Doc-To-Help with the built-in XHTML editor modeled after Microsoft Office.

Adobe Dreamweaver and other HTML editors:

Doc-To-Help installs a toolbar in Adobe Dreamweaver and Microsoft FrontPage allowing you to author content in those editors.

• RoboHelp, HTML Help, and WinHelp Projects: Convert existing projects with Doc-To-Help's wizards.

Collaborating, Managing, and Sharing

Part of Doc-To-Help's value lies in its ability to help you configure projects, manage content, and simplify working with others.

- Use Microsoft SharePoint to Collaborate and Manage Content: Doc-To-Help can use a SharePoint document library as a repository, giving you access to all of SharePoint's powerful management features. (works with Office 365)
- Content Reuse: Reuse content with features like topic management and variables.
- Multiple Language Support:

Benefit from an array of automated translation and localization features including right-to-left output.

• Other Collaboration Features:

In addition to SharePoint, choose to collaborate with Doc-To-Help Team Authoring Support technology or Microsoft Team Foundation Server.

Publishing

Create the outputs you need, no matter how many versions are required, from one set of source content.

• Powerful Single-sourcing:

Map virtually any content, even styles and HTML tags, to as many different outputs and versions as you need.

• Produce What You Need:

Produce HTML Help, NetHelp (for Web deployment), Mobile Help, print-ready manuals, Help 2.0, Microsoft Help Viewer, JavaHelp, Eclipse Help, and WinHelp.

• Publish Directly to SharePoint:

Publish NetHelp directly to SharePoint or create a SharePoint Wiki with one click.
