This is a floating, non-exclusive license to install and use the Software for designing, building, testing, and deploying application programs that the Licensee creates, by only one member of the Licensee’s team at a time. In order to use the floating license token by another developer licensed to use the Software, the previous licensed developer must stop using the Software. The license cannot be transferred to any other Affiliate or Entity. Site license is a per-seat license that allows frequent transfers and switches of users without informing the Licensor about it. If more developers than the agreed number of preliminary and secondary developers seek to be able to use the Software, Licensee must get additional seats for the site license. If more teams or offices/locations require/seek to use the Software, Licensee shall contact Licensor to discuss such terms.

2. The Software is licensed on a subscription basis, not sold. The subscription includes Software updates and either predefined amount (Standard plan) or unlimited amount (Premium Plan) of technical services, based on selected subscription type, for a selected period, if not excluded by a separate agreement between Licensor and Licensee. 9. No other right or license is granted by Licensor to Licensee, either expressed or implied, with respect to any other Intellectual Property Rights owned, possessed, or in which Licensor has or shall have any other rights, except as expressly set forth in this EULA.

ARTICLE VI – NON-CHARTING DEVELOPERS

1. All developers programming LightningChart .Net API directly, need a license, while other team members who don't have a license, may experience limitations in functionality. Charting developers (with licenses) can generate a Deployment Key, and assign this Deployment Key to the source code of the project. Non-charting developers (using the assemblies the charting developers made) can't see the charts in Visual Studio designer. If running the application with the debugger attached, the chart shows up, but with low-performance mode (~1 frame/sec), and shows a nag message. If development in Visual Studio designer or unrestricted usage while debugging is required, a Developer license is needed.

ARTICLE VII – GEO MAP DATA SERVICES

1. By this EULA, Licensor does not provide or grant any license for any online map tile data service. Using online tile maps needs obtaining an online map data license from the tile data provider and applying the service's license keys in the Licensee's application.

ARTICLE VIII – LIGHTNINGCHART TRADER

1. Entry-level tier of Trader API (TradingCharts) is released as free-of-charge, without any additional cost. Licensor has implemented compatibility with certain data providers, out-of-the-box. Licensee needs to buy an own data contract from the data provider, and apply the data contract's API key to be able to use the data contract. LightningChart does not come with any data contract, and does not pass the usage rights to any Licensee.

ARTICLE IX – SUBSCRIPTION WITH SOURCE CODE

1. Subscriptions "with source code" allow modifying the Software and using the modified software in Licensee's application, and acts as a risk avoidance approach for customers having this policy. Consultancy regarding source code is not included. For consultancy, contact Licensor.
2. Licensee is strictly forbidden to remove license protection system by using the source unless agreed with Licensor in writing.

ARTICLE X – LIMITS AS TO SOURCE CODE AND REPRODUCTION

1. Except as expressly provided in this EULA, Licensee shall not transfer, rent, lease, modify, translate, sublicense, electronically transmit or receive the "source code" or "documentation" or share or provide the "source code" or "documentation" to any third party in any form. Licensee will not disassemble, decompile or reverse engineer the Software or attempt to do the same. Licensee also will not permit or assist any party or team member, to disassemble, decompile or reverse engineer the Software. Licensee is not to copy or otherwise make copies of the Software.

2. Licensee may not: (a) distribute the license key files, license key strings, or setup files of the Software; (b) distribute Licensor's "License Manager" program; (c) distribute Licensor's XML files; (d) allow the use the Software on more than 1 computer per license, without prior written consent from Licensor; (e) share the license key(s) of Software with others; (f) create a rival software product based on the Software or its source code; (g) create derivative software works of the Software; (g) remove or bypass license key handling routines; and (i) reverse-engineer, decompile or disassemble the Software.

ARTICLE XI – SUPPORT

ARTICLE XI.I – GENERAL PROVISIONS

Support is to be provided to Licensees with a valid subscription and either with unused support tickets available or with Premium support plan. Each Support question/topic is equivalent to one Support ticket. Requests for features or bug reports are not considered as ticket use. Each Support ticket is to be opened and managed through Licensor's customer portal. If all Support tickets were used, additional tickets can be purchased separately for a valid Subscription.
